S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS ACT ON DRUG USE/ABUSE POLICY AT FEB. 3 MEETING

The board of directors of School Administrative District No. 44 held a regular meeting at Telstar Regional High School on Tuesday evening, Feb. 3.

Board Chairman Richard Melville of Greenwood appointed the following directors to work with the administration in redefining the District's administrative positions: Donald Stecher, Bethel, chairman; Milton Mills, Woodstock; Malcolm Packard, Greenwood; Robert Davis, Newry; and Eddie Snyder of Andover.

The board voted to participate in the Student Teacher Center Program, to be set up through Farmington State College.

Final approval was granted to the following policy with regard to sharing of costs by the member municipalities: "The Directors of School Administrative District No. 44 advocate that in the interest of the best possible education for all children in the District, the towns continue to share costs in proportion to the State valuation of the towns."

The board also gave final approval of the following policy regarding class sizes in the District: "As a general guideline, it is the policy of the Board of Directors in planning for staff utilization to maintain class sizes in the District that will be most conducive to the education of all pupils involved." "Generally, courses at Telstar Regional High School that have less than ten (10) pupils enrolled will not be offered. Exceptions may be made at the discretion of the high school principal, provided additional staff members will not be required."

The following transfers of funds in the 1969 budget were approved: $5,680.68 from Debt Service to Instruction; $1,610.73 from Maintenance of Plant and Equipment to Fixed Charges; $1,355.16 from Food Services to Capital Outlay.

The board approved the use of the auto mechanic shop of the industrial arts department for repair work on the district's buses. Floyd Keniston, chairman of the Industrial Arts Department, spoke in opposition to the use of the classroom area for repair work. Frank Hunt, supervisor of buildings, grounds and transportation told of the need of an area where such repairs could be made. Approval was granted to use the area for repair work on buses after school hours, and that the personnel doing the repair work in the area restore the classroom to its original position if anything is moved by them.

Supt. Ralph Ryder read a proposed policy on illegal drug and drug abuse from the State Department of Education. The board voted to go into executive session to discuss the proposed policy. It was requested that Rey, Wellman of Andover, be permitted to remain in the executive session to speak to the board on the drug problem in the area.

Following discussion after the reopening of the meeting, a motion that would cause any student possessing, using or pushing illegal drugs on school property to be expelled from S. A. D. 44 schools, was defeated.

Following further discussion in which the need for a stronger program in the schools relative to illegal drugs and drug abuse was emphasized, the following policy on illegal drug use and/or drug abuse was given preliminary approval:

"Unhealthy habits of drug use and abuse fall into two distinct categories: (1) Possession, use, or sale of illegal drugs such as marijuana and heroin and (2) Abuse of drugs—unwise use of drugs, related composition substances, or certain volatile materials such as glue.

Possession, use or sale of illegal drugs

"Whenever a principal receives information which he deems reliable that a pupil is involved in the possession, use or sale of illegal drugs or narcotics, he shall inform the Superintendent of Schools, the pupil,

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The Town Office will be open Saturday, Feb. 21, from 9 a. m. until noon. This will give anyone paying an excise tax a week to get their registration.

Next Monday, Feb. 16, the office will be closed in observance of Washington's birthday.

Our roads sustained very little damage as a result of the last rain. There are many places the water was across the roads; this has created rough spots due to freezing. Except for the Skillings and Grover Hill roads, they all remained open to traffic.

There may be some confusion as to why we have articles 61 and 62 in the warrant for town meeting this year. These pertain to the funds for planning and construction of our Sewage Disposal System. We voted on the same subjects last year, and the articles this year are merely to satisfy the bank on financing the money to pay for the construction plans. They felt, even though the intention was clear, that the articles were not specific enough as to the authority of the Selectmen in the manner the financing was to be done.

STATE POLICE CHIEF SAYS 20% OF MAINE ROAD DEATHS ARE PEDESTRIANS—URGES CAUTION

The chief of the Maine State Police Wednesday urged citizens to demonstrate special concern about safety of pedestrians on the state's highways.

"Nearly 20 per cent of the persons killed annually on our highways are pedestrians," pointed out Col. Parker F. Hennessey. "So far this year approximately one-third of the highway deaths have been persons traveling on foot," he added.

Hennessey noted that the winter months of fewer daylight hours are the most hazardous for the pedestrian and driver alike.

"Drivers should be especially alert for persons walking along highways and urban streets, particularly during the hours of darkness and at dusk," he warned.

"Pedestrians, in turn, have a responsibility to outfit themselves in some type of reflective clothing, which will stand out for a considerable distance in the glare of headlights."

Neither driver nor pedestrian should take for granted that one can see the other, Hennessey added. "This is a common fallacy particularly among pedestrians—believing that because they can see headlights plainly the person behind the headlights can see them just as clearly. This is dangerously not always the case."

Noting that a large percentage of pedestrian deaths involve senior citizens and children under 14, Hennessey cited preoccupation as one of the major cause factors contributing to pedestrian highway fatalities. "This throws an extra burden of responsibility on the driver," he added.

Both pedestrians and drivers should move about on Maine's highways as though each expected the other to do the unexpected, he advised.

Shirley Chase, South Bethel returned to his work for P. H. Chadbourne Monday. Mr. Chase has been recovering from a severe shaking up and many bruises when the large tractor he was operating January 30 on the icy Sunday Punch Trail, Sunday River Skiway, tipped over onto its side. The tractor was badly damaged.

A power failure was reported early Monday evening, Feb. 9, involving parts of Bethel, Woodstock, Greenwood, Newry and Gilead.

Central Maine Power Company representative Leroy Barker reported that power was out for approximately two and a half hours due to one phase of a 33,000 volt line located off the Gore Road at Locke Mills burning mid span. Cause of the burned line was not immediately known. Repairmen reached the trouble, which was located about 3,000 feet from the highway, by snowmobile.

Three CMP trucks from Newry and one from Bethel were involved in repairing the line. Spare wire, which was at a sub-station between Locke Mills and Bryant Pond was used for repair.

HEAD START NEWS

There hasn't been much news so what you read is some old and some new. A pot luck supper was held in November. During December a Christmas party for the children was held, but the party for the adults was not held as everyone had other plans. At the coffee, the mothers made a quilt which was won by Judy Bean.

The P A C meetings have been held at Gertrude Sprague's, Edith Garey's and Gary Savage's.

The Wednesday morning coffees have been held with Martha Ricker Edith Garey, Carol Cox, Mrs. MacKillop and Carolee Osgood. The last coffee was to wrap Christmas gifts for one of our families. Edith Garey and Carol Cox shopped in Norway for them.

At the last parents' meeting, Ruth Leino gave a talk and showed slides on her trip to Washington. More parents are urged to attend these meetings and also visit the children at school.

Ruth Leino and Robert Reny attended a meeting in Waterville recently.

The John Heath family have moved.

CARD OF THANKS

I can't begin to thank you all enough for the expressions of kindness showed to me while I am in the hospital. Everything means so much, cards, letters, packages, prayers. An illness such as this can take a long time to recover from and it never ceases to amaze me how everyone is still remembering with all the kindnesses. My special thanks go to Dr. Young, Edson Greenleaf, and Rev. Richard Parker and those who have provided transportation and to those who will no doubt continue to do so during my recovery. Even the nurses say I must know some wonderful people. I personally believe that and add my thanks. If I have forgotten anyone right know I apologize. I will never forget in my heart May God Bless you all.

ERRORS CAUSING TAX REFUND DELAY

Early Federal Income Tax returns indicate that many taxpayers are making errors in claiming adjustments to their income which may delay their refunds, Whitney L.
Wheeler, District Director of the Internal Revenue Service for Maine, has stated. The term "adjustments," as used on the tax form, refers only to sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, and payments to self-employment retirement plans. The total of these items is entered on line 15-B of the Form 1040, Mr. Wheeler said.

Some taxpayers are incorrectly reporting on line 15-B, the total of their itemized deductions such as interest expense, state and local taxes, contributions, medical, or miscellaneous expense. These deductions should be computed and entered on the appropriate schedules as provided in the instructions.

Mr. Wheeler also said that taxpayers are making mistakes by including as adjustments, the exemption allowances for themselves, husbands or wives, children, or other dependents. For taxpayers who use the tax table to compute their tax, the exemption allowance is already figured into the table. Taxpayers who use the tax rate schedules should make their computation on schedule T, which is included in the regular tax packet. To avoid errors in claiming adjustments, Mr. Wheeler suggested that taxpayers read the instructions carefully and make sure they have attached the proper supporting documents.

TELSTAR R. H. S. NEWS

STUDENT COUNCIL NOTES

Sunday at 6:30, Telstar will be represented on WMTW television's "Klassroom Quiz." The three scholars to appear on the show were selected in the following manner. First, teachers were asked to make lists of students they considered to be "likely candidates." Next it was announced to the student body that anyone wishing to participate in "Klassroom Quiz," should sign up for an elimination test. Each teacher suggested three questions for the test which simulated the actual show. The four who qualified in the test were: Merrie Lee Hatters, Ellen Dombrowski, Jane Bailey and Andy Davis. Andy was unable to go, so Telstar was represented by an all-girl team.

Ellen said being on the show was very exciting and different. When asked if the questions were difficult, she answered, "Only the ones I couldn't answer!"

Merrie Lee was very impressed by how small the studio was and said the monitor bothered her when she looked up and saw herself!

Jane said the whole thing was different than she had expected.

So, be sure to see the first all-girl team on "Klassroom Quiz" Sunday night!

The winners balanced their scoring and counted heavily at the foul line as they stayed in the running for the league pennant, given a boost by Tuesday's Lisbon defeat of contending Wintthrop. Mexico Jayvees also won overwhelmingly in the preliminary.

Business Education Department at Telstar

The following is another in the series of articles by Department Chairmen at Telstar Regional High School, telling of work in their respective areas.

Though small in enrollment at present, the Business Department is offering to those students who feel a need, the opportunity to seek an understanding of business as it functions as part of their daily lives.

In the Introduction to Business course, students are given a survey of the basic functions of business; both in the personal involvement of the individual with everyday transactions; checkwriting, savings and budgeting, also the functions of corporations and small businesses similar to the Bethel area.

Other courses leading to broader background of Business are the Math, Recordkeeping, and Economics courses that involve simple but important facts and concepts that an individual as well as a family uses in their daily lives. The students plan their finances by means of budgeting. The importance of knowing where one's money is going and how to account for expenditures is relevant to any student.

In the Economics course the student is made aware of the problems the consumer is confronted with in today's economic world. An understanding of how the American economic system functions and how dependent one is on business to satisfy his economic wants and needs is demonstrated.

Another important objective is to foster an understanding of the economic principles that are essential for participation as a citizen and voter and also to stress the applications of the procedures and principles of business to personal and family problems relating to earning a living; a wise management of money and savings; to protection from loss through insurance; and to buying a home are the objectives of the Business Department.

The Business and Social Science Department are offering a first time year; a mini-course in Federal Income Tax to those students who work and have questions concerning their personal income tax, both state and federal.

The Shorthand II class has had a first-try experience with transcription to the typewriter from their own shorthand notes. During the first semester it is routine to develop the shorthand by learning symbols from sounds, memorizing brief forms, phrasing words and reading letters and stories written in shorthand. The next step is to transcribe from shorthand in the textbook to the typewriter, and then finally the transcription of their own notes taken from dictation at a specified speed, usually starting at forty-words-a-minute.

One of the Shorthand II girls, Pauline Hart, gave assistance to a student in Mr. Flake's English class by taking dictation from a tape recorder of a story composed by Mike Auger. Once the material was transcribed in typewritten form, the English student found his material easier to correct and recompose.

The Office Practice girls are having experience with actual work in the principal's office. Each of the four in the class will serve for four weeks. Plans are also being made for this class to have on-the-job work experience in various offices in the area.

All of the advanced Business Education students frequently type material for the faculty and townspeople, and since much is to be gained from this, any projects are gladly accepted. As much actual work experience as possible will help to make the transition from school to the field of business more meaningful.

The bookstore will be stocking more merchandise shortly in terms of books and especially clothing which should help sales. As you may know, the store has not been stocked or what you would call a success up to now as the capital has not been available to expand. Now that the Girls Athletic Club has come into the organization with added money and incentive we feel it will help tremendously, especially in summation I should like to say that your children may be getting a third-rate education in the future due to circumstances beyond our control. But again maybe this reflects a sense of values that we have in this country and I hope the people are willing to pay the price.

Brooks Bros. truck had to go all the way to Ketchum and then break down. So was hauled home by Carter's wrecker. Thank goodness no one was hurt in that truck or the big pulp truck that went off the road and had to be hauled back on and turned around. It was empty.

The ice from our recent rain made not only the roads but even the trees so slippery that the birds could not stay on the limbs.

That hawk that was here a while ago, called again and sat still long enough to be looked at. If what we really matched with our bird book he is rather rare and 20 to 24 inches long. The female is much the larger and is known as a hawk.

innocent until proven guilty, and take no disciplinary action against the pupil that would prejudice the rights of the individual and the State of Maine to a fair trial.

"If legal action results in the court determining that the pupil is, in fact, guilty of an illegal act, the Board of Directors or school committee may exercise the power given to it and suspend temporarily or expel the pupil from school if, in its judgment, it is in the best interests of all concerned and necessary for the peace and usefulness of the school." The pupil shall be restored or reinstated in school when the Board of Directors or school committee receives "satisfactory evidence of his repentance and amendment." If suspension or expulsion action does not appear to be indicated, the school may offer its services and facilities in cooperation with other community and state agencies for a rehabilitative program for the pupil involved and may require his participation in such a program as a condition for school attendance.

"If the investigation shows no probable cause or court action determines innocence, the pupil's full rights and status shall be protected and without prejudice.

Abuse of drugs
"Whenever the principal of a school receives information which he deems reliable that a pupil may be involved in unwholesome habits of drug abuse, he shall schedule a conference with the pupil and his parents or guardian to discuss the validity of such evidence and indicate the seriousness of such a practice."

"Following the initial pupil-parent conference, if there is a repeated occurrence of this practice which is affecting the behavior of the pupil in the school, the principal shall report his evidence to the Superintendent and Board of Directors or school committee. The Board of Directors or school committee may then request a meeting with the pupil, his parents or guardian, the Superintendent, and principal. If the results of this meeting indicate that disciplinary action should be taken, the Board of Directors or school committee may suspend temporarily or expel the pupil from school, if in its judgment, it is necessary to the peace and usefulness of the school." The pupil shall be restored or reinstated in school when the Board of Directors or school committee receives "satisfactory evidence of his repentance and amendment."

"M. R. S. 1904 as amended, Title 20, Chapter 15, Section 473, Sec. 25. Mr. Ryder informed the board that he had obtained information from the State Department to the effect that it appeared (Tuesday, Feb. 3) that S.A.D. 41 would be receiving $20,000 less in state subsidy than had been anticipated in the 1970 budget. At that time there was a bill before the Special Session of the Legislature that would have provided the funds, but there was no way of knowing at that point what the action of the Legislature would be.

The board voted to insert two articles in the District Warrant, reflecting both state subsidy figures. In the hope that the issue would be clarified by the date of the annual District Budget meeting on Feb. 18.

Mr. Ryder pointed out to the board that funds had been cut from the transportation budget that would provide buses to the various towns for transportation after athletic events, and without such funds present transportation policy would have to be changed. Due to the lack of funds the board rescinded the policy. The item will be placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

Board members not present at the Feb. 3 meeting were: Mrs. Missa Brown, Theodore Chadsbourne of Bethel; Frederick Schindler, Andover; Mrs. Alta Waterhouse, Woodstock; and Paul Wight of Newry.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held 7:30 Monday evening, Feb. 16, at the Andover Elementary School.
